Lee Miller

Lee Miller is a nom de plume I have on file with the United States Copyright Office, which began with the writings I registered there in the 1982. I have since, additionally, used this name for email and internet communications. This name simply consists of my middle name and half of my last name. It is quicker to write and easier to spell. The 'Collected Writings' came from a part of me that is more inspired than cerebral writing. I more or less recorded these writings as they flowed through my thoughts, as I lived them.
